CHAPTER 1.

An Act to authorise the borrowing and repayment of certain sums which have been placed to the credit of the Exchequer of Northern Ireland.
[4th October, 1921.]

A.D. 1921.

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, and the Senate and the House of Commons of Northern Ireland, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1.—(1) The Minister of Finance shall be deemed to have had power as from the sixteenth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one, to borrow certain sums not exceeding in the whole one hundred and sixty thousand pounds, which have, before the passing of this Act, been placed to the credit of the Exchequer.

Borrowing and repayment of temporary advances.

(2) Such moneys shall be repaid, with any interest due thereon, out of the growing produce of the Consolidated Fund.

2. This Act may be cited as the Exchequer (Temporary Borrowing) Act, 1921.

Short title.

CHAPTER 2.

A.D. 1921.

An Act to amend the Law applicable to the Exchequer and Consolidated Fund of Northern Ireland, and to make provision with respect to the Audit of the Accounts of that Fund, the Receipt, Custody, and Issue of Public Moneys, and the Powers, Duties, Tenure of Office and Salary of the Comptroller and Auditor-General for Northern Ireland. [4th October, 1921.]

BE it enacted by the King's most Excellent Majesty, and the Senate and the House of Commons of Northern Ireland, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

COURSE OF THE EXCHEQUER.

Payment of gross revenues into Exchequer and rendering of daily returns.

1. The gross revenues of every Department shall, after deduction of repayments and discounts, be paid at the prescribed times and under the prescribed regulations to an account to be called " the account of the Exchequer of Northern Ireland," at such Bank as may be prescribed for that purpose (in this Act referred to as " the Exchequer Bank "), and all other public moneys payable to the said Exchequer shall be paid to the same account; and accounts of all such payments shall be rendered to the Comptroller and Auditor-General and to the Ministry of Finance daily in the prescribed form.

Formation of one general fund in Bank applicable to Exchequer issues.

2. All moneys paid to the account of the said Exchequer shall be considered as forming, in the books of the Exchequer Bank, one general fund, being the Consolidated Fund of Northern Ireland; and all orders directed by the Ministry of Finance to the Exchequer Bank for issues out of credits to be granted by the Comptroller and Auditor-General, as hereinafter provided, for the public service, shall be satisfied out of the Consolidated Fund; and with a view to economise the public balances, the Ministry of Finance shall restrict the sums to be issued or transferred from time to time to the credit of accounts of principal accountants at any prescribed bank, as hereinafter provided, to such total sums as that Ministry may consider necessary for conducting the current payments for the public service entrusted to such principal accountants; and the said principal accountants may consider the sums so issued or transferred to their accounts as constituting part of their general drawing balance, applicable to the payment of all the services for which they are accountable, but such sums shall be carried in the books of such accountants to the credit of the respective services for which the same may be issued, as specified in such orders:

A.D. 1921.

Provided always, that this enactment shall not be construed to empower the Ministry of Finance or any authority to direct the payment, by any such principal accountant, of expenditure not sanctioned by any Act whereby services are or may be charged on the Consolidated Fund, or by a vote of the House of Commons, or by an Act for the appropriation of the supplies annually granted by Parliament.

3. At the close of each of the quarters ending on the thirty-first day of March, the thirtieth day of June, the thirtieth day of September, and the thirty-first day of December in every year the Ministry of Finance shall prepare an account of the receipts into and issues out of the Consolidated Fund for such quarter, and shall forthwith transmit a copy of that account to the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

receipts into and issues out of Consolidated
Fund.

4. The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall grant to the Ministry of Finance, from time to time, on requisitions of that Ministry, if satisfied of the correctness thereof, credits on the account of the said Exchequer, for services payable under any Act out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof; and the issues or transfers of moneys required from time to time by the principal accountants to enable them to make the payments entrusted to them shall be made out of such credits on orders issued to the Exchequer Bank, signed by one of the secretaries of the Ministry of Finance, or in their absence by such officer as that Ministry may from time to time appoint to that duty, and in all such orders the services for which the issues may be authorised shall be set forth.

Credits services charged on Consolidated
Fund.

A daily account of all issues or transfers made from the account of the said Exchequer, in pursuance of such orders, shall be transmitted by the Exchequer Bank to the Comptroller and Auditor-General and to the Ministry of Finance.

A.D. 1921.

Order of Lord Lieutenant for issue of sums granted for expenses of specified public services.

5. When any sums of money shall have been granted to His Majesty by a resolution of the House of Commons, or by any Act of Parliament, to defray expenses for any specified public services, it shall be lawful for the Lord Lieutenant on behalf of his Majesty, from time to time, by order countersigned by the Minister of Finance, to authorise and require the Ministry of Finance to issue, out of the credits to be granted to that Ministry on the account of the said Exchequer as hereinafter provided, the sums which may be required from time to time to defray such expenses, not exceeding the amount of the sums so voted or granted.

Credits for ways and means granted to make good supplies and issues to principal accountants.

6. When any ways and means shall have been granted by Parliament to make good the supplies granted to His Majesty by a resolution of the House of Commons, or by any Act of Parliament, the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall grant to the Ministry of Finance, on the requisition of that Ministry, a credit or credits on the account of the said Exchequer, or on the growing balance thereof, not exceeding in the whole the amount of the ways and means so granted. Out of the credits so granted to the Ministry of Finance issues or transfers shall be made to principal accountants from time to time on orders issued to the said Exchequer Bank, signed by one of the Secretaries of that Ministry, or in their absence, by such officer as that Ministry may from time to time appoint to that duty; and the services or votes on account of which the issues or transfers may be authorised shall be set forth in such orders.

A daily account of all issues or transfers made from the account of the said Exchequer in pursuance of such orders shall be transmitted by the Exchequer Bank to the Comptroller and Auditor-General and to the Ministry of Finance.

PUBLIC BANKING ACCOUNTS.

Determination by Treasury of accounts to be deemed public accounts.

7. The Ministry of Finance may from time to time prescribe at what banks accountants shall keep the public moneys entrusted to them, and what accounts so opened in the names of public officers or accountants in the books of any bank shall be deemed public accounts; and on the death, resignation, or removal of any such public officers or accountants the balances remaining at the credit of such accounts shall, upon the appointment of their successors, unless otherwise directed by law, vest in and be transferred to the public accounts of such successors at any such bank, and shall not, in the event of the death of any such public officers or accountants, constitute assets of the deceased, or be in any manner subject to the control of their legal representatives.

A.D. 1921. A

Consolidation of public accounts at bank.

Consolidation of public accounts at bank.

8. It shall be lawful for the Ministry of Finance, whenever that Ministry shall consider it for the advantage of the public service, to direct that the accounts of any public officer or Department, which by any Act are required to be kept under separate heads at any bank, shall be consolidated in such manner as that Ministry may judge most convenient for the public service.

9. It shall be lawful for any prescribed bank, at the request of the Ministry of Finance, signified by one of their secretaries, for the public convenience to open and keep accounts of Government stock and annuities in the books of such bank under the official description of any public officer for the time being, without naming him; and the dividends on such stock and annuities may from time to time be received, and the stock and annuities or any part thereof to the credit of such account may from time to time be transferred, by the officer to whom the said official description is for the time being applicable, and if such stock and annuities stood in his own name, and upon the death, resignation, or removal of any such public officer the stock and annuities standing to the credit of any such account, and all dividends thereon, including any dividends not theretofore received, shall become vested in his successor in office, and be receivable and transferable accordingly.

Opening of accounts of stock under official description of public officers, receipts of dividends and sale of stock.

Any such public officer in whose official description such Government stock and annuities are standing may, by letter of attorney, authorise such bank or all or any of the cashiers of that bank, to sell and transfer all or any part of the stock or annuities from time to time standing in the books of that bank on such account, and to receive the dividends due and to become due thereon; but no stock or annuities shall be sold or transferred at such bank under the authority of such general letter of attorney, except upon an order in writing, signed by one of the secretaries of the Ministry of Finance, directed to the proper officers of such bank.

APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS.

10. The Ministry of Finance shall cause an account to be prepared and transmitted to the Comptroller and Auditor-General for examination on or before the thirtieth day of June in every year, showing the issues made from the Consolidated Fund in the financial year ended on the thirty-first day of March preceding, for services charged directly on the Consolidated Fund ; and the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall certify and report upon the same with reference to the Acts of Parliament under the authority of which such issues may have been directed ; and such accounts and reports shall be laid before the House of Commons by the Ministry of Finance on or before the thirtieth day of September in every year, if Parliament be then sitting, and if not sitting, then within one week after Parliament shall be next assembled.

Preparation for Parliament of annual accounts of the appropriation of public moneys.

11. On or before the days respectively specified in the Schedule to this Act, accounts of the appropriation of the several supply grants comprised in the Appropriation Act of each year shall be prepared by the several Departments, and be transmitted for examination to the Comptroller and Auditor-General and to the Ministry of Finance, and when certified and reported upon they shall be laid before the House of Commons ; and such accounts shall be called the " Appropriation Accounts " of the moneys expended for the services to which they may respectively relate. The Appropriation Accounts shall be prepared and rendered to the Comptroller and Auditor-General by the prescribed Departments, and the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall certify and report upon such accounts, and the reports thereon shall be signed by him :

Provided always, and it is the intention of this Act, that the Department charged with the expenditure of any vote under the authority of the Ministry of Finance shall be prescribed as the Department to prepare the Appropriation Account thereof.

Description of account.

12. An Appropriation Account of supply grants shall exhibit on the charge side thereof the sums appropriated by Parliament for the services of the financial year to which the account relates, and on the discharge side thereof the sums which may have actually come in course of payment within the same period. No advance, of the application of which an account may not have been rendered to and allowed by the accounting Department, shall be included on the discharge side of the account.

A.D. 1921

13. The Department charged with the duty of preparing the Appropriation Account of a grant shall, if required to do so by the Comptroller and Auditor-General, transmit to him, together with the annual Appropriation Account of such grant, a balance sheet so prepared as to show the debtor and creditor balances in the ledgers of that Department on the day when the said Appropriation Account was closed, and to verify the balances appearing upon the annual Appropriation Account :

Balance sheet or statement showing disposition of balances.

Provided always, that the Comptroller and Auditor-General may, if he thinks fit, require the said Department to transmit to him in lieu of such balance sheet a certified statement showing the actual disposition of the balances appearing upon the annual Appropriation Account on the last day of the period of such account.

14. Every Appropriation Account, when rendered to the Comptroller and Auditor-General, shall be accompanied by an explanation showing how the balances on the grants included in the previous account have been adjusted, and shall also contain an explanatory statement of any excess of expenditure over the grants included in such account ; and such statement, as well as the Appropriation Account, shall be signed by the Department.

Appropriation Account to be accompanied by explanatory statement.

15. Every Appropriation Account shall be examined by the Comptroller and Auditor-General on behalf of the House of Commons, and in the examination of such accounts the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall ascertain, first, whether the payments which the accounting Department has charged to the grant are supported by vouchers or proofs of payment, and secondly, whether the money expended has been applied to the purposes for which such grant was intended to provide, and he shall also scrutinise the expenditure of all moneys voted by the House of Commons, and the balances on all such accounts.

Examination of Appropriation Accounts.

If at any time the Comptroller and Auditor-General is required by the Ministry of Finance to ascertain whether any expenditure included in any Appropriation Account is supported by the authority of the Ministry of Finance, he shall examine that expenditure with that object, and shall report to the Ministry of Finance any expenditure which appears upon the examination to have been incurred without such authority; and any such unauthorised expenditure shall, unless sanctioned by the Ministry, be regarded as not being properly chargeable to a Parliamentary grant, and shall be so reported to the House of Commons.

A.D. 1921.

Method of conducting examination of vouchers.

16. The following provisions shall, if the Ministry of Finance by their Minute to be laid before Parliament so direct, apply with respect to the examination of the vouchers relating to the appropriation of the grants for any service specified in such Minute, that is to say—

In conducting the examination the Comptroller and Auditor-General, after satisfying himself that the accounts bear evidence that the vouchers have been completely checked, examined, and certified as correct in every respect, and that they have been allowed and passed by the proper departmental officers, may admit the same as satisfactory evidence of payment in support of the charges to which they may relate :

Provided always, that if the Ministry of Finance should desire any such vouchers to be examined by the Comptroller and Auditor-General in greater detail, the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall cause such vouchers to be subjected to such a detailed examination as may be prescribed.

The following provisions shall apply with respect to the examination of the vouchers relating to the appropriation of the grants for any services which are not specified in any such Minute as aforesaid, that is to say—

In conducting the examination the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall test the accuracy of the castings and computation of the several items of such vouchers :

Provided always, that when any vouchers have been certified to be correct by any officers specially authorised to examine the same, it shall be lawful for the Comptroller and Auditor-General, with the consent of the Ministry of Finance, to dispense with a second examination of the particular items of such vouchers.

Objections by Comptroller and Auditor-General

17. If, during the progress of the examination by the Comptroller and Auditor-General hereinbefore directed, any objections should arise to any item to be introduced into the Appropriation Account of any grant, such objections shall, notwithstanding such account shall not have been rendered to the Comptroller and Auditor-General, be immediately communicated by him to the Department concerned, and if the objections shall not be answered to his satisfaction by such Department they shall be referred by him to the Ministry of Finance, and that Ministry shall determine in what manner the items in question shall be entered in the annual Appropriation Account.

A.D. 1921.

18. If the Ministry of Finance do not within the time specified in this Act present to the House of Commons any report made by the Comptroller and Auditor-General on any of the Appropriation Accounts, or on the accounts of issues for Consolidated Fund services, the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall forthwith present such report.

Presentation of reports to House of Commons.

ACCOUNTS OTHER THAN APPROPRIATION ACCOUNTS.

19. The accounts of the receipts of revenue by every Department and the accounts of every receiver of money which is by law payable into the said Exchequer shall be examined by the Comptroller and Auditor-General on behalf of the House of Commons, in order to ascertain that adequate regulations and procedure have been framed to secure an effective check on the assessment, collection and proper allocation of revenue, and the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall satisfy himself that any such regulations and procedure are being duly carried out.

Examination of accounts of receipts of revenue.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall make such examination as he thinks fit with respect to the correctness of the sums brought to account in respect of such revenue as aforesaid, and shall, together with his report on the Appropriation Accounts of the Departments concerned, present to the House of Commons a report on the results of any such examination.

20. The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall examine, if so required by the Ministry of Finance and in accordance with the prescribed regulations, the accounts of all principal accountants and any other accounts, whether relating directly to the receipt or expenditure of public funds or not, which the Ministry of Finance may, by minute to be laid before Parliament, direct.

Examination of other cash accounts.

A.D. 1921.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall examine any such accounts so required to be examined by him as aforesaid with as little delay as possible, and when the examination of each account has been completed shall sign a certificate to the account recording the result of his examination, and a copy of the account so certified shall be sent to the accountant.

A list of all accounts so certified shall be submitted by the Comptroller and Auditor-General to the Ministry of Finance not later than the first week in February and the first week in August in every year.

STOCK, STORE AND TRADING ACCOUNTS.

Examination of stock and store
accounts

21. Stock or store accounts shall be kept in all cases where, in the opinion of the Ministry of Finance, the receipt, expenditure, sale, transfer, or delivery of any securities, stamps, provisions, or stores the property of His Majesty in any Department is of sufficient amount or character to require the keeping of such accounts, and the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall, on behalf of the House of Commons, examine any such accounts so required to be kept, in order to ascertain that adequate regulations have been made for control and stock-taking, and that the regulations are duly enforced and that any requirements of the Ministry of Finance have been complied with.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General may require a special stock-taking to be carried out by any Department in the presence of one of his officers if, on his examination of any such account, it appears to him that such stock-taking is necessary, and the Department shall thereupon take steps to comply with such requisition.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall report to the House of Commons the result of any such examination.

Preparation and examination of trading, etc.,
accounts.

22. There shall be prepared in each financial year in the prescribed form statements of account showing the income and expenditure of any manufacturing, trading or commercial services conducted by any Department, together with such balance sheets and statements of profit and loss and particulars of costs as may be prescribed.

All such accounts shall be transmitted to the Comptroller and Auditor-General and presented to Parliament.

A.D. 1921

All such accounts as aforesaid shall be examined by the Comptroller and Auditor-General on behalf of the House of Commons, and in his examination he shall have regard to any programme of works or manufacture which may have been laid before Parliament, and he shall certify and report on such accounts to the House of Commons.

GENERAL PROVISIONS AS TO ACCOUNTS AND ACCOUNTANTS.

23. The accounts (other than Appropriation Accounts) which the Comptroller and Auditor-General is required by or under this Act to examine shall be prepared and rendered to him by such Departments or (in the case of accounts not relating directly to the receipt or expenditure of public funds) by such persons as may be prescribed and in accordance with the prescribed regulations.

Preparation and rendering of accounts and questions at audit.

If, in the course of any examination of accounts to which this section applies, any question arises between the Comptroller and Auditor-General and the accountant, it shall be referred to the Ministry of Finance, whose decision thereon shall be final.

24. In order that his examination of any accounts may, as far as possible, proceed pari passu with the transactions of the several accounting Departments, the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall have free access at all convenient times to the books of account and other documents relating to the accounts of such Departments, and may require the several Departments concerned to furnish him from time to time, or at regular periods, with accounts of the transactions of such Departments respectively up to such times or periods.

Access to books of account.

25. A plan of account books and accounts adapted to the requirements of each service shall be designed under the superintendence of the Ministry of Finance, and each Department of the public service shall keep its accounts in the prescribed manner.

Form of accounts.

26. Every accountant shall, on the termination of his charge as such accountant, or in the case of a deceased accountant his representatives shall forthwith pay over any balance of public money then due to the public in respect of such charge to the public officer authorised to Adjustment of balances on accounts.

A.D. 1921.

receive the same; and in all cases in which it shall appear to the Comptroller and Auditor-General that any balance of public money has been improperly and unnecessarily retained by an accountant, he shall report the circumstances of such cases to the Ministry of Finance, and that Ministry shall take such measures as to that Ministry may seem expedient for recovering the amount of such balance, together with interest upon the whole or part of such balance, for such period of time, and at such rate as to that Ministry may appear just and reasonable.

Appeals by accountants

27. In all cases in which an accountant is dissatisfied with any disallowance or charge in his accounts made by the Comptroller and Auditor-General, such accountant shall have a right of appeal to the Ministry of Finance, who, after such further investigation as that Ministry may consider equitable, may make such order, directing the relief of the appellant wholly or in part from the disallowance or charge in question, as shall appear to that Ministry to be just and reasonable, and the Comptroller and Auditor-General shall govern himself accordingly.

COMPTROLLER AND AUDITOR-GENERAL.

Tenure of office, salary and officers of Comptroller and Auditor-General.

28. The Comptroller and Auditor-General shall hold his office during good behaviour, but subject to removal therefrom by the Lord Lieutenant, on an address from both Houses of Parliament; and he shall not be capable of holding his office together with any other office to be held during the pleasure of the Lord Lieutenant, or in any Department.

There shall be paid to the Comptroller and Auditor-General a salary of one thousand three hundred and fifty pounds per annum, and such salary shall be charged on and issued out of the Consolidated Fund or the growing produce thereof, and shall, in the case of the first holder of the office of Comptroller and Auditor-General, be payable as from the twelfth day of July, one thousand nine hundred and twenty-one.

The Comptroller and Auditor-General may appoint such officers and servants as he may, with the sanction of the Ministry of Finance, determine, and there shall be paid to those officers and servants, out of moneys provided by Parliament, such salaries as that Ministry may determine.

Anything which under this Act is directed to be done by the Comptroller and Auditor-General, other than the certifying and reporting on accounts for the House of Commons, may be done by a principal officer of the Comptroller and Auditor-General authorised for that purpose by the Comptroller and Auditor-General.

A.D. 1921...

GENERAL.

29. In this Act, unless the context otherwise requires—Definitions.

The expression “prescribed” means prescribed by the Ministry of Finance.

The expression “secretaries of the Ministry of Finance” includes an assistant secretary of that Ministry.

The expression “Department” means any Department of the Government of Northern Ireland, and includes any public officer of such Department who may be prescribed for the purpose of performing any duty required by this Act to be performed by a Department.

The expression “principal accountants” means accountants who receive issues directly from the account of the said Exchequer.

30. Any matter or thing which would at the passing of this Act have been subject to any enactments contained therein, if a day had then been appointed for any particular purposes or provisions of the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, shall, as from such day as may hereafter be appointed for those purposes and provisions, be subject to such enactments, and this Act shall thereupon have effect accordingly.

Effect of Act in relation to appointed days.

CHAPTER 3.

An Act for the application of the Superannuation Acts, 1834 to 1914, to Officers of the Government and Parliament of Northern Ireland, and for purposes connected therewith.

[4th October, 1921.]

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, and the Senate and the House of Commons of Northern Ireland, in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

Application of Superannuation Acts to civil service of Northern Ireland.

1.—(1) The provisions of the Superannuation Acts shall, subject as in this Act provided, apply to the civil service of Northern Ireland in like manner as they apply to the civil service of the United Kingdom, and the expression “civil servant,” where used in this Act and in the Superannuation Acts as thereby applied, shall mean a person (other than a transferred Irish officer) who has served in an established capacity in the permanent civil service of Northern Ireland.

(2) In the Superannuation Acts, as applied to the Civil Service of Northern Ireland, the following modifications shall have effect, that is to say:—

- (a) The Lord Lieutenant shall be substituted for His Majesty.
- (b) The Ministry of Finance shall be substituted for the Treasury.

- (c) References to Parliament and to each, either or both of the Houses of Parliament shall be construed respectively as references to the Parliament of Northern Ireland, and to each, either or both of the Houses of that Parliament. A.D. 1921.
- (d) References to the Consolidated Fund of the United Kingdom shall be construed as references to the Consolidated Fund of Northern Ireland.
- (e) References to the Civil Service Commissioners shall, if and when any Commissioners, department or officers are appointed to perform, in relation to the Civil Service of Northern Ireland, functions corresponding to the functions performed by the Civil Service Commissioners in relation to the Civil Service of the United Kingdom, be construed as references to such Commissioners, department or officers.

2.—(1) In the application of the Superannuation Acts to specially appointed officers as hereinafter defined, the following additional provisions shall have effect:—

Specially appointed officers.

- (a) A specially appointed officer may be deemed to be a civil servant, although he has not received on admission to the civil service of Northern Ireland a certificate from the Civil Service Commissioners.
- (b) For the purpose of computing the amount of any superannuation allowance, additional allowance, compensation or gratuity which may be granted to a specially appointed officer, his service in the civil service of the United Kingdom shall be reckoned as if it had been service in an established capacity in the permanent civil service of Northern Ireland.
- (c) The provisions of section seven of the Superannuation Act, 1859, with respect to the granting of allowances by way of compensation, shall apply to any specially appointed officer if he is removed from office in the civil service of Northern Ireland before he attains the age of sixty years, for any cause other than misconduct or incapacity.

AN Act to make further provision for the exercise of the powers and the performance of the duties of County and District Councils and Town Commissioners and their Committees, and for purposes connected therewith.

A.D. 1921

[14th December, 1921].

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, and the Senate and the House of Commons of Northern Ireland in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows:—

1.—(1) If the Ministry of Home Affairs for Northern Ireland is satisfied that any local authority in Northern Ireland has refused or failed or is unable to perform all or any of the duties imposed on that local authority by or in pursuance of any statute, or imposed on that local authority by any order or direction issued or given by the Ministry or any branch thereof in pursuance of any statute, then, notwithstanding anything contained in any Act, the Ministry may by order do all or any of the following things, namely:—

Default of Local Authorities

- (a) Dissolve the local authority and appoint such person as the Ministry thinks fit to exercise and perform all the powers and duties of the local authority.
- (b) Appoint such person as the Ministry thinks fit to discharge such of the duties of the local authority as may be specified in the order.
- (c) Make such provision as may be required for the resumption by the local authority of its powers and duties, or (where the local authority has been dissolved) for its re-constitution.
- (d) Revoke, amend, or vary any order made for any purpose mentioned in the foregoing paragraphs of this sub-section.

(2) From and after the making of any such order, and so long as it remains in force, the powers and duties of the local authority, or, where the order relates to the performance of any specified duty, the powers and duties

(2) This Act shall continue in force for one year and no longer, unless Parliament otherwise determines.

CHAPTER 6.

An Act to provide for the administration of certain public services in Northern Ireland by the Departments established by the Lord Lieutenant, and for purposes connected therewith.

[14th December, 1921.]

BE it enacted by the King's Most Excellent Majesty, and the Senate and the House of Commons of Northern Ireland in this present Parliament assembled, and by the authority of the same, as follows :—

Administration of public services.

1.—(1) The branches specified in the schedule to this Act in connection with the Ministries named in that schedule (being branches for the establishment of which provision was made by the direction of the Lord Lieutenant dated the seventh day of June, nineteen hundred and twenty-one) shall not be established, or, if established prior to the commencement of this Act, shall cease to exist, and any Irish service which would pursuant to that direction be administered in Northern Ireland by any such branch shall be administered by the appropriate Ministry, and that direction is hereby altered accordingly.

A.D. 1921

(2) References in any Irish Transfer Order made under the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, to any branch of a Department of the Government of Northern Ireland shall cease to have effect.

10 & 11
Geo. 5, c. 67.

(3) The Minister of each Ministry named as aforesaid may distribute the business of his Ministry amongst the various officers thereof in such manner as he thinks fit, and may, if he thinks fit, by Minute to be laid before both Houses of Parliament, assign any specified powers or duties of that Ministry to such officer, officers or committee as he may appoint to exercise or perform the same, either—

- (a) under the designation of the branch of that Ministry by which such powers or duties would, but for the passing of this Act, have been required by law to be exercised or performed; or
- (b) Under any other designation having reference to such powers or duties:

Provided always that, where any powers or duties of a Ministry have been so assigned, their exercise or performance shall remain subject to the direction and control of the Minister, who shall continue to be responsible for the administration of the service in relation to which the powers are exercised or the duties performed.

2. The following provisions shall have effect with respect to each Ministry named as aforesaid, that is to say:—

Seal, style and acts of Ministry.

- (1) The Ministry shall be a body corporate with a capacity to acquire and hold land for the purpose of the powers or duties of the Ministry, and shall be styled by the name set forth in the first column of the schedule to this Act, and may sue or be sued by that name.
- (2) The Ministry shall have an official seal which shall be officially and judicially noticed, and that seal shall be authenticated by the signature of the Minister or of a secretary or assistant secretary of the Ministry.

- (3) In the execution or performance of its powers or duties the Ministry shall adopt and use the style and seal of the Ministry :

Provided that the Minister may authorise the use of a special designation by any officer, officers or committee to whom any specified powers or duties have been assigned by him under this Act.

- (4) Subject to the provisions of this Act, any power or duty of the Ministry may be exercised or performed by the Minister or by a secretary or assistant secretary of the Ministry.

- (5) The provisions of this Act with respect to a secretary or assistant secretary of the Ministry shall apply to—

- (a) any officer of the Ministry who is appointed to be secretary or assistant secretary thereof ; and
- (b) any parliamentary secretary or assistant parliamentary secretary of the Ministry.

Evidence of acts of Ministry

3.—(1) Every document purporting to be a regulation, order, licence, certificate or other instrument issued by any Ministry named as aforesaid, and to be sealed with the seal of the Ministry authenticated in manner provided by this Act, or purporting to be signed by a secretary or assistant secretary of the Ministry or other officer of the Ministry authorised by the Minister in that behalf, shall be received in evidence and be deemed to be such regulation, order, licence, certificate or other instrument without further proof, unless the contrary is shown.

(2) A certificate signed by the Minister or by a secretary or assistant secretary of such ministry that any regulation, order, licence, certificate or other instrument purporting to be made or issued by the Ministry is so made or issued shall be conclusive evidence of the facts so certified.

(3) The Documentary Evidence Act, 1868, as amended by the Documentary Evidence Act, 1882, shall apply to such Ministry in like manner as if—

- (a) the Ministry were mentioned in the first column of the schedule to the first-mentioned Act, and the Minister or a secretary or assistant secretary of the Ministry were mentioned in the second column of that schedule ;
- (b) the regulations referred to in those Acts included any document issued by the Ministry ;
- (c) the term “ Government Printer ” used in those Acts included any printer purporting to be the printer authorised to print the statutes of the Parliament of Northern Ireland or otherwise to be the Government Printer of Northern Ireland ; and
- (d) the term “ Gazette ” used in those Acts included the Belfast Gazette.

4.—(1) This Act shall come into operation on the passing thereof, but without prejudice to the administration of any service until that service has been transferred to the Government of Northern Ireland.

Commence ment and effect of Act.

(2) Any matter or thing which would at the passing of this Act have been subject to any enactments contained therein, if the provisions of the Government of Ireland Act, 1920, had then come into operation with respect to such matter or thing, shall, as from the appointed day for the coming into operation of those provisions, be subject to such enactments, and this Act shall thereupon have effect accordingly.
